Every church in Anderson County ought to take up collections and forward to the yellow fever sufferes as soon as possible. Even if the amount is small it will help out, and an aggregation of small sums will raise a good amount to assist in alleviating the want and suffering of our brethren of the Mississippi Valley, who an afflicted with the most terrible scourge that can overtake mankind.

We have been requested to give notice that there will be a "Dimo Reading" at the residence of Mrs. Rosa Webb on next Friday evening at eight o'clock, for the benefit of the yellow fever sufferers. The programme will be quite interesting, consisting of music and reading. The public are invited, and it is hoped that the attendance will be large. The object is one to which we should gladly contribute.

On the fifteenth of August last a pasteboard box containing a cavalry sabre belt, like those worn by Gen. Humphroys and staff was stolen from the buggy of Maj. J. N. Vandiver, will be suitably rewarded, and no questions saited.

We are requested to announce that Rev. W. H. Strickland will preach in the Baptist Church on next Sunday night upon the subject of Temperance, in compliance witi-a request from Anderson Division, Sons of Temperance. The sermon will no doubt be an able and interesting one, and as it is upon an important, practical subject, we hope there will be a large congregation of the citizens of Anderson and vicinity to listen

Rev. W. H. Strickland has been assisting Rev. A. W. Lamar in a protracted meeting at Lewisville, in this State, for the past week. His pulpit at this place was filled on last Sunday morning by Rev. We would call attention to the advertisenent of the Ladies' Store, which appears elsewhere. Miss Lizzie Williams has just returned from New York, where she purhased a large and elegant stock of ladies' goods to supply the wants of her many customers this fall. Her experience and success in business are a sufficient guarantee of the goods which will be found at the Ladies' Store, and those wishing to get the advantage of selecting their fall and winter outfits will be compelled to call early to do

Mr. W. C. Chapman, who recently bought of the most delicious late peaches we have the Emporium of Fashion at this place from Mr. Z. D. Chambiee, is now in New York, where he is purchasing a large and varied tock of ladies goods, together with a general stock of fancy goods, notions, dry goods, &c., which will begin arriving in a few days. Mr. Chapman has had considerable experience in merchandise, as a member of the irm of Anderson & Chapman, of Williamston, and will no doubt bring on an excel lent selection of goods, which he will be pleased to have the public call and examne for themselves.

Mr. N. A. McCully deserves the thanks of the business men of Anderson for the persistence with which he has worked for ow freights to Anderson by way of Central. He has recently seen Col. Foreacre, the Superintendent of the Air Line Railroad, and expects to increase the business still further. One of the results of his labors is that the Greenville and Columbia Railroad has reduced its freight on cotton to Charleston from Anderson to $2.65 per bale, instead of $3.25, as it has heretofore been. If our people will support him in his efforts to re-duce freights the railroads will have to come

The meeting of the Democratic Club of Anderson on last Friday afternoon attended to some routine business of importance, and appointed a committee to arrange for the grand rally which is to be held at this point on the 5th day of October next. The Club expects to do all in its power to contribute to the pleasure and comfort of all who attend the meeting on that occasion. The time for the next meeting of the Club was changed back to the night instead of Miles Pickens and Mr. Ernest Brown, who the afternoon of each first Friday in the month. The Anderson Palmetto Band was present and enlivened the meeting by rendering some of its most charming music.

Col. Joseph N. Brown returned on last Monday from a visit to New York and Ralmore, whither he went on professional reference to the South Carolina and Greenville & Columbia Railroads. Col. Brown represents a large number of the bonds of each of these Roads, and is very cheerful over the prospects of the pending litigation, which he thinks will probably result in the appointment of separate Receivers for each of the Roads, so as to cause the Roads to be run separately in the interest of the creditors of each Road. This- will secure the running of the Greenville & Columbia and the Blue Ridge Roads in connection both with the Air Line and the various Roads running into Columbia, from which course the various points along the line of the Road, and especially Anderson, will be likely to derive very material reductions in freights, and the profits of the Road will at the same time in all probability be increased by an enlarged business.

The Hypochondriac is simply superb.

It will leave Walhalla at 8 o'clock in the morning, and leave Sandy Springs to return to Walhalla at 4:30 in the afternoon. The other trair, will leave the following points as follows: Greenville, 7 a. m.; Belton, 8:40 a. m.; Anderson, 9:30 a. m., and leave Sandy Springs to return to these points at 4:30 p. m. Fare for round trip is as follows: Greenville, $1; Walhalla and Williamston, 75 cents. Belton, Anderson, Seneca City and Perryville, 50 cents; Pendleton, 25 cents. It is expected that the attendance will be very large.

PRAYER FOR THE STRICKEN.

The meeting of the Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church, after discussing the situation of the yellow fever sufferers and expressing an approbation of the contributions which are being raised for their relief, ordered the following prayer to be made in the regular service of the churches throughout the United States during the continuation of the deadly plague:

continuation of the deadly plague:

Almighty God, our refuge and strength in time of trouble, give ear to our prayer in behalf of Thy people who at this time are suffering under gribvous sickness and mortality, and hide not Thy face from them in 'this season of their distress; remember them in mercy—not in wrath—and stretch forth Thy mighty hand to stay this pestilence; heal the sick and deliver them not over unto death. Cover with the shield of Thy protection ell those who are exposed to danger; strengthen the weak hearted, comfort the bereaved and desolate, and give to them that, are sorrowful beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning and the garments of praise for the spirit of heaviness. Bestow Thy blessing upon those at home and abroad who minister to the relief of the afflicted; sanctify this visitation to the good of this whole nation, mellowing our hearts and binding us in sympathy one with another, and by Thy grace making us a people serving God and working righteousness. So may we live to honor Thy name and extol Thy mercies, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The other Christian denominations of

The other Christian denominations of our country should also remember our smitten brethren of the West in their supplications-that the Divine blessing may b poured out upon afflicted humanity, and that His power may arrest the progress of this heart-rending scourge.

While I feel thankful to my friends who have done me the honor to mention my name as candidate for the Legislature in the approaching election, the demands of my private business upon my time and personal attention are such as to render it impossible for me to become a candidate for that or any other position. With assurances of my best efforts to secure the success of the Democracy, and with many thanks and reasoning power. We believe Mr. Fant to my friends, I therefore decline the nomination. W. E. AN EXAMPLE.

As an example of the efficiency which as characterized Mr. Magrath's managenent of the Greenville and Columbia Railroad, we wish to cite an instance which has occurred in Anderson within the past 1:70 weeks. Mr. G. F. Tolly sold a bill of furniture to a gentleman in Pendleton, and sent the articles, the cost of which was about nine dollars, to the depot at Anderson for shipment, instructing the person by whom it was sent to bring him back a bill of lading, with the amount of the freight to be charged. It came back to him with $5 as the price of the freight, whereupon Mr. Tolly got Mr. Howell's wagon, which is running from Anderson to Central, and went to the depot, withdrew from shipment the furniture and sent it by the wagon for $1.66. Thus, sending by private conveyance at a charge of one dollar and sixty-six cents what the railroad charged five dollars for. This is only one out of many examples that could be mentioned to show the tyrannical and short-sighted cours: which Mr. Magrath has pursued, in controlling this road, and our readers will readily perceive why our people are rejoiced at the prospect for a change in the management of the road. We are satisfied that no change which can, in the bounds of reason, be made will injure us, and the probability is that we will be greatly benefitted thereby.

That our people may see the accounts given of the yellow fever by persons who know of what they write, we quote below a portion of a letter to Mr. S. M. Crayton from a former citizen of the town of Anderson, which will no doubt be read with much interest by our people:

"SURNYSIDE," NEAR MEMPHIS, TENN., ]

September 3d, 1878.

Mr Dram Sam: It is with no light heart that I make this attempt to write you, and I fear that the surrounding gloom will cause my pen to carry naught but sadness to your own faithful heart. Our fair city is now but the bivouse of the dead and dying, and as each hour brings intelligence of some dear friend or acquaintance who has suc cumbed to the ravages of the scourge, our spirits are crushed anew, and sink into the very depths of despair. No pen can portray the sad, soul-harrowing scenes that are daily and nightly anacted in our doomed city.

The graphic descriptions afforded by our daily journals is but the tale of the surface of the agony, but what pen could probe the depths where the wails of the widow are heard; where ringing on the ears ca e the plaintive appeals of fatherless and motherless children; or can eloquence own its power as it stands in the portal of the household where the Destroyer has claimed the entire household, and the family altar is the Court of Death! .

I have at this moment received the annonnement of the death of Col. Butler Anderson-a man of peerless nobility of soul. Col. Anderson was a brother of Gen. Patton Anderson, who distinguished himself in our late war. He was one of the most prominent members of the Howard Association in Memphis. At the outbreak of the yellow fever in Grenada, he offered his services to her people. His work will ever remain a lasting monument to his name, and no one contemplating his great deeds of charity, devotion and love can ever lose that grand faith in humanity, upon which altar Butler Arderson yielded his life a willing sacrifice for others. I have the deepest sympathy for Mrs. Anderson, who is a lady of superior merit.

It is almost impossible to bury the dead. If I could convey to you the scenes it would make your blood curdle in your veins. Hearses go in a brisk trot to the cemeteries, and back they come for others. Sometimes persons remain several days before burial.

Every house, cabin, shanty and, in some cases, chicken houses, in the suburbs and country is filled to its utmost capacity. My own house has every space occupied. We feel somewhat secure, although there have been several deaths in our immediate neighborhood. I think, though, in those instanin the city Lida has her hands full, I assure you, but our neighbors are in the same condition. Nearly all the little towns on the line of the railroads for some miles from Memphis have more or less yellow fever. I see that Anderson has made quite a liberal contribution. I am rejoiced to see that her citizens responded to the appeal made to the country at large. Well done, old Anderson ! My heart ever cherishes its warmest affection for you; and, oh! in this strife, this sickening warfare, battling for life, for existence, my spirit turns instinctively to you, thou Mecca of my soul's pilgrimage!

TO THE VOTERS OF ANDERSON COUNTY: To the Voters of Andreson County:
In the last issue of the Intelligencer I asked my friends of the Fork township who had honored me with a nomination for County Commissioner to make some other selection; but they say by words and actions that they are not willing to do so. I now accept the solicitations of friends, and will be governed by the primary election. If elected I will discharge the duties of the office to the best of my ability.

THE PUBLIC DEET. MR. EDITOR: Of all the public questions likely to sgitate the public mind for the next half dozen years, the question of the public debt is by far the most important to the people of South Carolina. While the honor of the State should be sedulously

guarded in the adjustment, it is equally im portant that no fraudulent obligation should be, through the medium of legal technicalities, fastened upon an already over-burdened people. The Radical Legislature under Chamberlain proposed an adjustment of the public debt by repudiating fifty cents on the dollar, and issuing new bonds drawing six per cent. interest for the remainder. This arrangement made by a Radical Legislature was received by the people with gratulation, not because it was all that justice would require to be done, but because it was so much better than we had any right to expect from Radical authority. It now turns out, however, from an investigation by public authority, that about two milions of this consolidated debt is tainted with more or less of fraud, and this gave rise to the formation of two parties in the Legislature on the debt question, one contending that we could not in good faith go pehind the consolidated debt, and the other with equal pertinacity contending that the Democratic Legislature owed it as a first duty to the people to sift the fraudulent from the valid portion of the public debt, and arrange only for the prompt liquida-tion of the valid. The contest ran high, and finally a compromise was reached by which the whole question was referred to the Courts, all parties agreeing to abide their decision. But the new Bond Court, organized by the Legislature for the express purpose of passing upon the validity and legality of the whole question, is likely to be ignored by the bondholders through appeal to the Supreme Court on the ground of unconstitutionality. In that event, the whole question may come back to the representaives of the people, to haunt them with difficulties and dangers on every oide. That the voice of the people is almost a unit for the elimination of the fraudulent from the valid debt before payment is made, there can be no doubt. And that there is more or less of fraud connected with the whole bonded debt, originated by the Radical government, there is just as little doubt. But still, notwithstanding all these facts, the courts may, under the shield of legal tochnicalities, saddle the State with the whole consolidated debt, fraudulent as well as valid. Then add to this all the floating indebtedness, and the old State bank bills, and we may reasonably presume that the whole amount of the indebtedness piled upon the people of the State will reach the enormous sum of eight millions of dollars. This at six per cent, interest will necessitate the raising every year by taxation of the mormous sum of four hundred and eighty housand dollars to pay the interest on the public debt. This added to the annual expenditure of about $500,000 dollars will necessitate the raising of on annual tax of nearly one million of dollars from the inpoverished people of the State. And this, too, would be the gloomy prospect for perhaps the next century. Can any man be-lieve, basing his calculations upon the present impoverished condition of the people that there can be any prosperity in store for our State while this incubus rests upon the tax-payers? We trow not. Is there any remedy? Certainly not in repudiation. The remedy would be worse than the disease. After the amount of the arisolidated debt has been adjudicated by the courts, and the valid amount of the floating indebtedness has been ascertained, then let the State, through her constituted authorities, honestly and frankly approach all of her creditors and make an equitable and satisfactory adjustment, looking as well to the ability of the people of the State as justice to the creditors. Frankly say, We cannot pay all, but are willing to pay what we can. Great credit was claimed by the friends of the consolidated debt on the ground that by that adjustment the public indebtedness was reduced to the amount of the ante-bellum debt, viz.: between five and six millions of dollars. Forgetting that the analogy is utterly shorn of its strength by the fact that now the taxable property of the people of the State only reaches about one hundred and eighty millions of dollars, all told, while at the time of the contraction of the ante-bellum debt our taxable property amounted to between five and six hundred millions of dollars. Looking then to the present impoverished condition of the peo-ple of the State, and judging of their bility to pay from the rate of taxation adopted as the highest limit by other States similarly situated, it does seem to the writer that in no event should the whole indebtedness for which the people are to be taxed to pay the interest, be more than three millions of dollars. This would place the whole public debt within the control of the people of the State, so that in a reasonable time every cent of the indebtedness of the State can be wiped out, and then let a provision be inwiped out, and then let a provision be in-serted in our new constitution when adop, ted, that no bonded debt shall ever again be contracted by any succeeding Legislature. ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Senator.

The many friends of Cor. JESSE W. NORRIS nominate him for a scat in the Sepate, and respectfully solicit the voters of Anderson County to cast their ballots for him at the primary election. The financial questions of the State, yet unsettled, demands the best financial ability that can be obtained. This ability, we believe, is posreased by our friend Col. Norris. He is truly a representative of both capital and labor, and deserves the support of all good DEMOCRATS.

For the House of Representatives. The friends of Da. JOHN WILSON re spectfully announce him as a candidate for the House of Representatives-subject to the primary election of the Democratic party.

The friends of CAPT. J. T. BARNES. from the Corner, respectfully announce him as a candidate for the House of Representatives from this County-subject to the primary election. Capt. Barnes is an upright. intelligent and influential gentleman, an if elected will serve the country faithfully and efficiently.

The friends of Cor. W. S. PICKENS re pectfully announce him as a candidate for the House of Representatives from this Courty, subject to the primary election. Col. Pickens has been nominated by several clubs, and after being earnestly and persistently solicited by many friends throughout the County, has consented to allow the use of his name for this position. He has faithfully served the people of this Cou-in the pest, and will do so again if elected:

The friends of Maj. EDWARDS B MURRAY respectfully announce him as a candidate for the House of Representatives, subject to the primary election of the Dem-

Democrats of this County to consider him favorably in the primary election. The many friends of WM, S. HALL re spectfully nominate him as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner at the next election-subject to the result of the primary election. Mr. Hall is well known throughout the County as Deputy Surveyor, and knows the wants of our County. For Judge of Probate.

A Consumptive accidentally cured. When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. James was experimenting with the many herbs of Calcuta, he accidentally made a preparation of Cannabis Indica, which cured his only child of consumption. His child is now in this country and enjoying the best of health. Desirous of benefiting the afflicted, the Doctor now gives the following Recipe free, on receipt of two stamps to pay expenses. There is not a single symptom of Consumption that it does not at once take hold of and dissipate. Night sweats, peevishness, irritation of the nerves, failure of the memory, difficult expectoration, sharp poins in the lungs, sore throat, chilly sensations, nausea at the stomach, inaction of the bowels, and wasting away of the muscles. Address Craddock & Co., 1032 and 1034 Race St., Philadelphia, Pa., giving name of this paper.
